Learning Centre training - Schedule of fees

The Queensland Centre for Mental Health Learning provides training at no cost for all Queensland Health staff and university students undertaking placements. Access requires a valid @health.qld.gov.au email address. This eligibility also extends to Queensland Ambulance Service (QAS) staff, using a valid @ambulance.qld.gov.au email address. All other learners, including those from other government departments, private organisations and non-government organisations are required to pay a fee to access any Learning Centre training.

Note: Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is the exception to the no cost training arrangements mentioned above. Fees apply to all RPL applications, even where the related training program is offered at no cost.
